The Braves in the World Series

1914 — Boston 4 games, Philadelphia 0

Manager George Stallings' 'Miracle Braves,' who climbed out of the cellar in July to win the pennant, swept Connie Mack's great Philadelphia Athletics in four games. The Braves were built around the pitching trio of Dick Rudolph, Bill James and George Tyler and the second base combination of Johnny Evers and Rabbit Maranville. Catcher Hank Gowdy, who batted .243 for the season, had a .545 average for the series, with a homer, triple, three doubles and a single.

1948 — Cleveland 4 games, Boston 2

The Braves under Billy Southworth won their first National League pennant in 34 years, but lost the series to Lou Boudreau and the Indians. Gene Bearden, Navy veteran of World War II, was Cleveland's pitching hero. Bob Feller allowed Boston only two hits in the opening game but lost it to Johnny Sain, 1-0. Boston's only other victory was in the fifth game, 11-5, as Bob Elliott smashed successive homers off Feller.

1957 — Milwaukee 4 games, New York 3

Sensational Lou Burdette had three victories and pitched 24 consecutive scoreless innings to defeat a New York team that was making its eighth Series appearance in nine years under the leadership of Casey Stengel. Warren Spahn was the winning pitcher in Milwaukee's other victory. Eddie Mathews' tenth-inning homer won the fourth game after the famous Nippy Jones shoe polish incident. Burdette started the seventh and final game after Spahn was felled by the flu, and with only two days rest, pitched a 5-0 shutout.

1958 — New York 4 games, Milwaukee 3

The Yankees, gaining revenge for their defeat the previous year, carried the Series to seven games and then won one of their greatest triumphs in Series play. They became only the second team in history to come from a three-games-to-one deficit and win the classic. Hank Bauer led the Yanks with ten hits and eight runs batted in, while pitcher Bob Turley won the fifth game, saved the sixth and won the seventh. Warren Spahn won two and Lou Burdette one for the Braves.

The Braves in the Championship Series

1969 — New York Mets 3 games, Atlanta 0

Atlanta became the first Western Division champion by winning .769 per cent of its games in September, finishing the year with a 93-69 record. New York then swept the three-game Championship Series from the Braves. The Mets scored five runs in the eighth inning to take the first game in Atlanta, 9-5. The following day, six Atlanta pitchers failed to stop the Mets as New York won 11-6. Then in the final game on Oct. 6 at Shea Stadium, Wayne Garrett's two-run homer in the fifth finished the Braves' hopes, with the final score, 7-4.

Hank Aaron — OF — No. 44

Henry Louis Aaron. Born Feb. 5, 1934 at Mobile, Ala. Bats and throws right. 6-0, 189. Graduated from Josephine Allen Institute, Mobile, Ala., 1951. Married Billye Williams. Has four children: Gail, born Nov. 5, 1953; Hank, Jr., Mar. 10, 1957; Lary, Dec. 15, 1957; Dorinda, Feb. 5, 1962. Lives in Atlanta. Acquired – Signed by Boston Braves Scout Dewey Griggs after Braves purchased his contract for $10,000 from Indianapolis Clowns of Negro American League, June 14, 1952.

Hank comes to the 1974 season just one swing of the bat short of tying Babe Ruth's 39-year-old home run record . . . Overall, Aaron had a great season in '73, batting .301 with 96 RBI and he led the team with 12 game-winning RBI. He collected his 40th home run of the season in the next to the last game and joined with Darrell Evans (41 home runs) and Davey Johnson (43 home runs) to make the Braves the first team in history to have three players with 40 or more home runs in one season.

In 1973 Aaron set the Major League record for most extra base hits in a lifetime (1,393) and extended 11 of his other Major League records . . . He hit two home runs in a game four times and connected for one pinch-hit home run . . . Aaron stands a good chance in 1974 of taking over the lead in four more of the major lifetime hitting categories: Games (he needs 70 to surpass Mays, Musial and Cobb), At Bats (142 AB will take over the record from Cobb), Home Runs (2 home runs will make him the home run king), RBI (77 will push him past Ruth's mark). Aaron's lifetime batting average remained .311 and last year he enjoyed the pitching of San Diego and St. Louis hurlers, batting .436 and .351 against them respectively.

Hank has been selected to play for the National League in the All-Star Game 16 consecutive times, and he was named to a starting position in the game in 1957, 1958, 1959 (both games), 1960 (both games), 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972 and 1973 . . . He was the top vote-getter in the All-Star balloting by fans in both 1970 and 1971 . . . Although he had never hit a home run in All-Star competition before 1971, he hit a single homer in both the 1971 and 1972 All-Star Games, and he was given a standing ovation when he hit the All-Star homer in Atlanta.

Aaron was signed by Boston Braves Scout Dewey Griggs after the Braves purchased his contract for $10,000 from the Indianapolis Clowns of the Negro American League in 1952. He was signed for the Clowns on November 20, 1951, by Scout Ed Scott.

In accomplishing his hitting feats, Aaron has surprisingly struck out only 1,265 times. In comparison, six active Major Leaguers have more career strikeouts — Lou Brock, Harmon Killebrew, Frank Howard, Frank Robinson, Ron Santo and Willie Stargell.

Hank became the first player to ever have both 3,000 career base hits and over 500 home runs on May 17, 1970, when he collected his 3,000th career hit against Wayne Simpson of the Reds in Cincinnati . . . He was voted Most Valuable Player in the South Atlantic League in 1953 and the Most Outstanding Rookie in the Northern League the year before . . . Baseball writers named him the Braves' Most Valuable Player in 1954, 1955, 1957, 1959, 1967, 1971 and he tied for the honor in 1973 with Evans and Johnson . . . He was named Most Valuable Player in the National League by the BBWAA in 1957 and was named National League Player-of-the-Year by The Sporting News in 1956 and 1963 . . . Hank is one of only six players who have ever hit over 30 home runs and have stolen over 30 bases in one season (1963).

Hank became a Milwaukee Braves regular in the outfield during spring training of 1954 when Bobby Thomson fractured an ankle on March 13. Aaron later suffered a broken ankle himself on September 5, 1954, and missed the remainder of his rookie season . . . Hank received the Gold Glove as the National League's top fielding right fielder in 1958, 1959, and 1960 . . . He and Eddie Mathews set the Major League record for most homers by teammates with 863 (442 by Aaron and 421 by Mathews) in 1954-66, breaking the record of 793 by Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig . . . Aaron was the recipient of the Lou Gehrig Award in 1970, signifying the Major Leaguer that best exemplifies the character and courage of Gehrig . . . On June 8, 1961, Mathews, Aaron, Joe Adcock and Frank Thomas set a Major League record for most consecutive homers by teammates in the seventh inning at Cincinnati . . . Aaron and Earl Williams are the only two Braves who have hit homers into the upper deck at Atlanta Stadium. Aaron did it on Opening Night in Atlanta Stadium for 1970 against Frank Reberger of the Giants . . . Hank hit three homers in a game on June 21, 1959 . . . He's had five hits in a game three times and four hits in a game 45 times . . . Hank's had batting streaks of 15 or more games ten times – 25 games in 1956 and 1962, 22 in 1959 and 1971, 19 in 1960, 18 in 1967, 16 in 1964 and 1965, and 15 in 1957 (twice) and 1958.

Atlanta fans honored Hank with "Hank Aaron Night" on August 23, 1968, and for his 3,000th hit jointly with Hoyt Wilhelm on May 26, 1970 . . . Hank was hitting .467 for the Indianapolis Clowns when owner Syd Pollock offered his contract to the Boston Braves in a letter to Farm Director John Mullen . . . Hank's Major League pinch-hitting record is 12 for 53 (.226) with two pinch-hit homers on July 8, 1962 and May 13, 1973.

Major League records held by Aaron include most years with 100 or more runs scored (15), most years leading league in total bases (8), most years with 300 or more total bases (15), most years playing in 150 or more games (14), most years with 100 or more extra bases on long hits (19).

A Major League record which Aaron shares is most consecutive years with 100 or more runs (13 with Lou Gehrig).

Hank led the National League in slugging percentages with .636 in 1959, .586 in 1963, .573 in 1966 and .667 in 1971.

He is one of only 24 players in Major League history with as many as 13 seasons with .300 or higher batting averages.

Hank was named the representative from sports on the list of the ten best dressed men in America, which was prepared by the Custom Tailors Guild of America in 1971 . . . He is also a member of the President's Council on Physical Fitness . . . Advertisers and sophisticated marketers are becoming more and more aware of the sales and motivational possibilities brought about by Aaron's involvement in community affairs and the commercial use of his name and image . . . Hank signed his first two-year contract for the Braves on February 19, 1970 . . . He signed another multi-year contract in 1972.

Hank was named to an outfield position on The Sporting News Major League All-Star Team in 1956, 1958 and 1959 . . . The Sporting News named him to its National League All-Star Team in 1963, 1965, 1967, 1969, 1970 and 1971.

The Hank Aaron Celebrity Pro-Am Bowling Tournament on November 14, 1972 in Atlanta raised over $25,000 for sickle cell anemia testing and research. Hank was also 1973 Chairman of the Red Cross Blood Drive in Atlanta and serves as 1974 National Easter Seals Sports Chairman. Leo was bothered by shoulder separations in 1970 and 1971 but played briefly for Atlanta in 1971 . . . In his first big league game on July 9, 1971, in Pittsburgh, Leo made an error on the first chance he handled, hit into a double play in the fifth inning and then a triple play in the seventh inning for one of the most inauspicious Major League debuts in history, but has since shown the potential of developing into a fine fielder . . . He spent most of the 1973 season at Richmond and batted .210 . . . He was named starting shortstop a week before the regular season opened last year, only to be injured in a collision with Darrell Evans that afternoon and then set to Richmond.

He had been drafted previously by the Orioles, Astros and Giants . . . Although best known in sports for his role with the Braves, Bartholomay wears many other hats in the business world. He is vice chairman of the board of Frank B. Hall & Co., one of the largest insurance brokerage firms in the world, and is on the board of directors of Atlanta/LaSalle Corporation, Parker & Co. of Georgia, Seeburg Corporation, and Byrnes-McCaffrey, Inc.

Robinson was born in Paris, Texas, Dec. 15, 1920, and graduated from Paris Junior College in 1940 with a degree in accounting. He started his playing career with Valdosta in the Georgia-Florida League in 1939 and reached the major leagues three years later with the Indians.

Robinson was the All-Star first baseman in 1949 as a Senator and in 1951 and 1952 with the White Sox. He appeared in the 1953 All-Star game as a pinch hitter while playing for the Athletics that year. He played in two World Series with the Cleveland Indians in 1948 and the New York Yankees in 1955.

After retiring as a player following the 1957 season, Robinson joined the Baltimore Orioles as coach and then moved into the front office as field director with the Orioles next season. Since then he has served as assistant to general manager Paul Richards at Houston 1961-1962, farm director for the Astros 1963-1965 and farm director of the Kansas City Athletics 1966-1967. He joined the Braves as minor league administrator following the 1967 season, and was named vice president of baseball operations in January, 1973.

He and his wife, Bette, live in Decatur, Ga., with their three children, Marc, Paul and Drew.

THE INCOMPARABLE SPAHN

Who was the greatest pitcher of all time? Braves fans can make a case for Warren Spahn. He led the National League in complete games nine times and in victories eight times, won 20 games 13 times, and had 100 or more strikeouts for 17 straight years. Spahn won 363 games (356 for the Braves), an all-time high for lefthanders.

SPECIAL BASEBALL REGULATIONS

FREE AGENT DRAFT RULE — A BRIEF SUMMARY — Major League and National Association clubs participate in two meetings a year for the purpose of drafting free agent player talent. Selection of a free agent entitles the club to the exclusive right of negotiation with that player for a specified period (from date of selection until 15 days prior to next draft meeting).

Draft meetings are held in summer (June) and winter (January). There are two phases to each draft meeting:

Regular Phase — Selection of free agents in inverse order of Major League standings. Limitations on number of selections by each organization at each level: Major League (1), "AAA" (1), "AA" (1), "A" (unlimited). Minor league clubs select in the same relative order as their parent clubs.

Secondary Phase — Selection of free agents who had been drafted at a previous meeting, but who were not subsequently signed before the negotiation right expired. It is possible for a club to redraft a player whom it had been unable to sign after the original selection, but only with express written consent of that player. Order of selection in the secondary phase is determined by lot.

TRADING REGULATIONS — Players are available on waivers in reverse order of standings, at the time waivers expire, if more than 30 days after start of the season; otherwise in reverse order of standings at close of preceding season. The standard waiver price is $20,000.

Inter-League Trades — Midnight, five days after the World Series to Midnight, of the last scheduled day of the winter meetings—No waivers are necessary. Midnight, of the last scheduled day of the winter meetings to Midnight, June 15—Waivers necessary in assignor's league. Midnight, June 15 to Midnight, the last day of the season—Major League waivers necessary. Midnight, the last day of the season to Midnight, five days after the World Series—Waivers necessary in assignor's league.

Trading Within League — Midnight, the last day of the season to Midnight, June 15—No waivers necessary. Midnight, June 15 to Midnight, the last day of the season—League waivers necessary.

PLAYER LIMITS —40 until opening day, when the number must be reduced to 25 until September 1, when it again becomes 40.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR BATTING CHAMPIONSHIP — Highest batting average and 502 or more plate appearances.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR PITCHING CHAMPIONSHIP — Lowest ERA and 162 or more innings pitched.

DEFINITION OF A SAVE — A relief pitcher shall be credited with a save when, in entering the game, he finds the potential tying or winning run on base or at the plate or pitches at least three effective innings and, in either case, preserves the lead.

When more than one relief pitcher qualifies for a save under the provisions of this rule, the save shall be credited to the relief pitcher judged by the scorer to have been the most effective. It is not mandatory to credit a save. Only one save can be credited in any game.

DETERMINING THE MAGIC NUMBER — Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the lost column of the standings from the closest opponent.

SUMMER FREE AGENT DRAFT will be held on June 5 and 6 this year.

BASEBALL WRITERS' ROOKIE RULE

A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit (excluding time in military service).
